Notes

- Please only use the Hobb's Heirloom Fusible batting. Do not use polyester batting – you will not be happy with your finished quilt. If you cannot get the Hobb's fusible, you may use low-loft cotton batting and temporary adhesive spray such as Sulky KK2000 or 505 spray.
- If your fabric is dark, you may want to use the smoke colored MonoPoly thread instead of the clear to sew down your sashing. (Invisible thread is optional; we will discuss other options in the final class.)
- If you have any of the rulers listed in the Optional Supplies, pull them out and we will learn how to use them. If you don't have them, I recommend watching the demo before purchasing. Different techniques work for different quilters, so don't spend money on a tool that's not right for you.
- I mix liquid starch 1:1 with water to stiffen the fabrics for my blocks.
- Send me an email if you have any questions!

Fabric Selection for Blocks

- If you want to make your quilt scrappy, use different fabrics from your stash each week for your blocks.
- This probably seems like a lot of fabric for one quilt, but remember this is everything you need to complete your quilt. Most patterns do not include batting, backing and binding. I was also generous with the block fabric so that you can make choices as you go to customize your quilt blocks.
- The fabric on the back of your quilt can be completely different than the front. I often use assorted black and whites for the backs of my quilts.

Here are the fabrics I will be using in class for my blocks
